Dear Martin,

Let us show appreciation and recognition for every day you invest with Brainster.

Our mission, that we humbly started in 2015, was to create opportunities for every individual to achieve their professional and personal goals through creating and facilitating relevant, competitive and meaningful learning experiences. Investing a valuable portion of your time and knowledge inside and outside of the academy to help shape individuals into mature talents doesn't go unnoticed.

We appreciate you going above and beyond in helping our students find their own personal mission out there in the professional world and make a difference.

We are happy to have you with us and hope for even greater successes and milestones further down this journey of ours.

Thank you for believing in our values and mission.

With utmost respect,

CEO, Petar Ninovski
